

• Our Dreamings at Night...

Thank you all for making our 20th Anniversary Premiere production, Dreamings, an overwhelming success! We had full houses every night and people leapt to their feet for standing ovations. The talk-back sessions after each show were honest, meaningful and poignant. Positive comments and rave reviews buzzed around, and if you have anything to add, please e-mail us with your thoughts - we'd love to hear from you! The two daytime school performances were also a great success. With students representing schools from all over Greater Hartford, we were so pleased to be able to expose them to professional dance-theater. We appreciate your presence and your support as JDPP continues forward into its 20th year.

• More Dreams Coming Up!
Parkville Performs

On April 30 the Koeppl Community Center at Trinity College will again come alive with the Moving Matters! Parkville Residency culminating performance, "I Have a Dream" inspired by Dr. Martin Luther King's renowned speech. Led by Kathy Borteck Gersten with JDPP Teaching Artists's Kerry Kincy, Tracy Lombardo, Lisa Matais, Kate Seethaler and Tammy Carlson and Trinity College student assistants performing with over 200 Parkville children along with world music group Sirius Coyote and song writer Leslie Bird - this is a morning not to be missed!

• Arriving Full Circle

Dreamings will return to York Correctional Institution on May 5 to an audience of invited guests and the women residents, including those who initially generated the material for this piece.

• Time In at the Kennedy Center!

JDPE & WOTC have been invited to perform selections from Time In at the Kennedy Center on September 5 as part of a "From the Prison to the Stage" Showcase. The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts each year on Labor Day weekend hosts the Page-To-Stage Festival, of which this show has been a part. From-Prison-to-the-Stage features a wide variety of outstanding ex-prisoner performing artists. The Prisons Foundation is a nonprofit organization based in Washington, DC that promotes the arts and education in prison and alternatives to incarceration.

• Women of the Cross Performing in Norwalk and NYC

Don't miss Women of the Cross in the Bernier Dance Company's "Artists for Peace" performance on Saturday April 18th at 8pm at the Crystal Theater in Norwalk, CT and Sunday May 3rd at 7pm at the JCC in Manhattan. Artists for Peace is a collaborative endeavor of performing artists who present performances of socially conscious work with the intent of raising funds for organizations that promote peace and social justice. This year's show is supporting KIVA, a non profit whose goal is alleviating poverty. Tickets are $10 and $15. See the attached flyer from Bernier Dance for more details.

• Supporting JDPP Made Even Easier!

We here at JDPP want to keep you as up-to-date as possible on our happenings. That's why we've created a Facebook page. Become a fan of our page, check out our photos, videos and get event invitations. We truly appreciate every bit of support, and we want to make it as easy as possible. That's why we've joined iGive.com and Goodsearch. Now, every time you make a purchase online, or search for something online, you can support JDPP! Visit www.igive.com, filter by "Connecticut," "Arts/Culture" and type in "Judy Dworin." Visit www.goodsearch.com and enter "Judy Dworin Performance Project" in the "Who do you Goodsearch for?" field.